DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 12 in line 5, the examiner suggests that "380" should be "390".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 29 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 29 recites the limitation "elongate member" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. The examiner suggests changing "elongate member" to "elongate shaft" to correct this.

Trademarks

Claims 7, 10, 11, 21, 24 and 25 contains various trademark/trade names. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe particular polyurethane material and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 29 and 33-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lesh et al. (6,416,511).

As to claim 29, Lesh et al. disclose an electrode assembly, comprising:

an elongate member (Figure 3, # 130);

an inflatable member (170) secured to the elongate member, the inflatable member having a proximal end, a distal end, a lumen extending therebetween, and a conductive region (160); and an electrode ((Figure 3) carried by the elongate member, the electrode located within the lumen of the inflatable member and proximal to the conductive region of the inflatable member(col. 14, line 40-col. 15, line 34, col. 19, lines 3-31and col. 22, lines 25-48).

The applicant argued in the Remarks filed on 9/1/2006 that Lesh does not disclose the electrode is located within the lumen of the inflatable member and proximal to the conductive region of the inflatable member. The examiner is interpreting the electrode in question to be the wire from the generator (175) that passes through the lumen of the elongate member and inside the balloon to the conduction region (160), thus being partially proximal to the conductive region of the inflatable member.

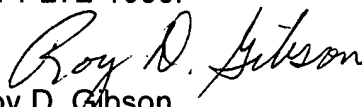

Further to claims 33-34, the elongate shaft is disclosed by Lesh et al. to be configured to be introduced intravascularly within the heart (Figure 3).
